

Gramática española

Variación social

Kim Potowski and Naomi Shin

SPRING 2022 – SPRING 2022 – SPRING 2022 – SPRING 2022
University of Kansas, Department of Spanish and Portuguese
SPAN 570 Stds in Hispanic Linguistics: Social&Dialectal Variation
CROSS-LISTED WITH LAC 501-1500 (53048)

Students with a valid reason to attend virtually should contact the instructor to find out how it can be done.

Instructor: Antônio R.M. Simões, Professor

Phones: 785-864-0285, 785-864-3851

CLASS TIME: TTh 2:30-3:45PM

Office Hours: TTh 4:00PM-5:30PM, or by appointment

Line number: 52219

Textbook REQUIRED:

Gramática española: Variación social, Kim Potowski and Naomi Shin, Routledge, 2018 Paperback – 2018-12-06

Additional books (not required):

- Introducción y aplicaciones contextualizadas a la lingüística hispánica, Manuel Díaz Campos, Kimberly L. Geeslin and Laura Gurzynski-Weiss, Wiley-Blackwell. ISBN-13: 978-1118990216
- Introducción a la lingüística hispánica, Manuel Díaz Campos, Wiley-Blackwell, 2014. ISBN: 978-0-470-65798-0
- Latin American Spanish, John Lipski, Longman, 1996 ISBN-13: 978-0582087606 ISBN-10: 0582087600
- Sociolingüística y pragmática del español, segunda edición, Carmen Silva-Corvalán and Andrés Enrique-Arias, Georgetown University Press, 2017, ISBN: 9781626163959 (1626163952)
- Introducción a la lingüística hispánica, José Ignacio Hualde, Antxon Olarrea, Anna María Escobar. Second edition (2009) Cambridge University Press. Soft back, if possible, ISBN:9780521513982
- Language and culture, by Claire Kramsch. Oxford University Press, 2008. ISBN-10: 0194372146 |
- The Handbook of Hispanic Linguistics (2012), Editors José Ignacio Hualde, Antxon Olarrea, Erin O'Rourke. Wiley-Blackwell ISBN: 978-1-4051-9882-0
- Spanish/English Contrasts – A Course in Spanish Linguistics, Second Edition, by M. Stanley Whitley. Georgetown, D.C.: Georgetown University Press, 408 pp. ISBN: 9780878403813 (0878403817)
- An Introduction to language, by Victoria Fromkin, Robert Rodman and Nina Hyams (2007). Thomson Wadsworth (7th Edition)

Course description - SPAN 570 is a grammar class that targets undergraduate and graduate students with a language proficiency level in Spanish at the Advanced Low (USA ACTFL scale, and B1 or higher in the European CEFL scale), which usually corresponds to student proficiency in 5th and 6th semesters at KU or higher. As we review the subtleties of the Spanish grammar from a Linguistics point of view, we will study how the Spanish grammar varies depending on the region, social-cultural group, socio-political context, and the situation in which spoken Spanish takes place. Such a variety of contexts are crucial to our understanding of the so-called concepts of prestigious and stigmatized forms of Spanish from a historical and contemporary view.

This course is presented as a combination of lecture and interactive style. Students are required to contribute meaningfully to class discussions and make Powerpoint presentations with audio, on a regular basis. Powerpoint presentations are intended to train students to monitor and improve their spoken and written Spanish, as well as develop self-repair skills for their language proficiency and confidence in public presentations.